Tales OF TWO CITIES

SMUDGE

Nobody likes mudge. The growers don't like it, they lose sleep and it costs them a lot of money. Housewives don't like it, it messes up their homes. Business men don't like it, because it cuts down trade.

Nobody, it appears, likes smudge. And that goes double for the smudge pots themselves.

We learn that fact, not directly, but through a friend who has made the acquaintance of a smudge pot named Rudolph.

Smudging, says my friend (quoting Rudolph) is an abomination to smudge pots. Particularly one inclined by nature to respiratory difficulties—Rudolph fits this description to a "T".

Squatting on his concrete base (says my friend) Rudolph regards the world with a baleful eye. He is afraid somebody is going to light him up.

The simple truth is that Rudolph is nearly asphyxiated by the clouds of smoke that issue from his own gullet. He is a victim, not of circumstance, but of faulty circulation. A long, hard winter like the present one is doubly difficult for Rudolph and his ilk. He looks forward longingly to the balmy days of summer when he does nothing much except lay around the grove and gather rust on his stack—that's what my friend says.

The next time I visit the state hospital, I hope to learn more from my friend about the problems of smudge pots.

LOOK OUT

Pedestrian lanes alongside state highways are out, the highway department announces. Although several are painted on roadways around the county, they don't mean a thing, and will not be renewed.

FLIGHT

Aviation may be a big thing in Southern California, but it's even bigger, and much more vital, in those remote areas of U.S.A. which are now cut off by snow.

A perusal of the newspaper from the little Eastern Montana town where we used to reside has convinced us of that fact.

Everything is being flown to the remote ranches and tiny hamlets of that area, where every road is clogged with snow. There "air mail" doesn't mean

Area Growers Call Meeting

A special meeting of Pomona Valley citrus growers will be held at Claremont high school on Friday, at 7:30 p.m., it was announced today by the California Citrus producers association.

The meeting will follow an all-day session of the State board of directors of the organization, which will also be held at the Claremont Inn.

Local growers will have an opportunity of observing and hearing the 20 directors of their organization who head various committees with the principal purpose of bringing better returns to the growers.

It is expected that recommendation of the ogranization regarding smudge-control will be made at the meeting. Government aid to growers who need help due to frost damage of crops, will also be discussed.

Reports on pro rate, marketing, congressional and railway rates, publicity and advertising, by-products, liason-farm organization, auctions, price controls and subsidy and publicity screening will be heard.

Growers of the valley and surrounding areas and any one connected with the citrus industry are invited to attend.

W. F. Tyler Has Letter From Brother, First in 55 Years

An Upland resident had news from his brother for the first time in 55 years yesterday.

Walter F. Tyler, 81, 175 West Ninth street, said he received a letter from E. E. Tyler, 83, of Columbia, Missouri. The Tyler's haven't seen each other since the 1890's, nor have they communicated.

Correspondence between the two was resumed by the Uplander recently after a third brother, Charles H. Tyler of Pomona, contacted the Missouri brother after a trip to the Mayo Brothers clinic at Rochester, Minn.

Among other things, the Uplander learned that his brother has recently married, and enjoys good health.

The local Mr. Tyler has been less fortunate on the latter score, he said, as he has been largely a shut-in for some two years with arthritis.

Ontario to Have Day at Orange Show; Industrial Plan Given

The county Orange show will designate a day to be known as "Ontario Day," it was revealed today following the meeting of the chamber of commerce board of directors, held yesterday at the Orange hotel.

Asked for suggested dates, John Gruys, chairman of the chamber's civic promotion committee, specified that Saturday, March 12, was the date preferred as "Ontario day." The chamber of commerce concurred in the suggestion.

Invited to explain his plan to bring industry to the city, Councilman G. E. McQuatters spoke in behalf of the proposed ordinance which would provide for an industrial engineer to be hired by the city. Councilman Joseph Aime was also in attendance in behalf of the plan.

The directors decided to refer the plan to their industrial committee for discussion and recommendations, later to be discussed at a meeting.

Reports of committees were heard at yesterday's meeting, including that of the legislative committee, Chairman Irene Babcock reporting.

Mrs. Babcock said that the committee had, among other activities, sent a telegram to all California representatives in Washington regarding the change in the wage-hour law.

Celesta Scott Walters, chairman of the educational committee, reported on the Chaffey school bond issue soon to come up for a general vote. The directors unanimously decided to support and cooperate in the movement to float the bond issue.

Visitors who attended the meeting were Walter Babcock, Assemblyman R. Fred Price, Sam Wickersham and C. Russell Eck.

A proposed budget was presented by Roy McGrew, chairman of the financial committee, which was unanimously adopted for the coming year.

Assemblyman Price gave an informative report in connection with the tour of the proposed freeway highway 99 rerouting.

Foothill School Site Selected; Up to Planners

The exact location for the new Upland elementary school north of Foothill is being proposed to the city planning commission it was revealed following a meeting of the Upland school board last night.

The site is not being made public at this time, due to the fact it is desired that the planning commission have complete freedom to make a decision without pressure, the board revealed.

The board, complying with the state education code, drew up a resolution in connection with the proposed site for the new school.

The board authorized the purchase of a classroom type 16 millimeter sound projector to replace one that has become obsolete.

The new projector will be bought as a cost of $205.85, with the old one being traded in and an allowance made of $92.50. The instrument will be used by the 7th, 8th and 9th grades.

Dow and Dow, auditors, of Pomona, have audited the student body fund and cafeteria finances, over the period 1946 to 1948, it was reported at the meeting. The board accepted the auditor's report, which showed the financial status to be in good condition.

Present at the meeting were Howard N. Mason, president; Allan S. Barr, clerk and Mrs. Ralph Mitchell, trustee.

Articles lost and found received police attention both in Upland and Ontario today.

Frances Bilbry, 279 No. Second avenue, lost her purse at Second avenue and Ninth street, she reported to Upland police today. The purse is described as of navy blue leather, zipper type, containing a Parker 51 pen and a red coin purse.

E. E. Cooper, 804 East D street, lost a brown leather billfold with operator's license and identification cards, plus $20.

Press Banquet Is Slated

Reservations are still open for the annual Chaffey college press banquet to be held this Saturday at 7:30 in the Chaffey cafeteria, Miss Mabel A. Stanford, journalism adviser, has announced.

The banquet is primarily a social gathering for all present and former staff members of Chaffey college student publications, including the yearbook and the Chaffey United Press.

Members of this year's Press club, hosts at the annual dinner, have issued invitations to former college journalists now living in many southland communities. Returns to date indicate a large gathering, representing many recent and pre-war classes.

Reservations at $1.75 may be made until Thursday night by calling Miss Stanford at the college, or by contacting any member of the College Press club.

Larry Cross Victim of Pneumonia

Young Larry Cross, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin C. Cross, 338 South Third avenue, is now in Kaiser hospital with bronchial pneumonia.

The child has been a patient at the Casa Colina home for crippled children in Chino.

Larry was involved in an accident here last August 11 after which he was unconscious for 15 days in the San Antonio community hospital. The parents are asking $100,000 in damages as the result of the injuries received when he was struck by a truck driven by Cecil Dudley Neely, 23, 62 Highland court.

Refuse Troops For MacArthur

Debate School Bond Issue

The serious reverses suffered by citrus and grape growers who must bear a large share of the taxation, make a bond issue for the Chaffey schools unwise at this time.

It would be better to postpone construction for one or two years until taxpayers are in a better financial position to bear added costs.

Proceeding with a bond issue in the absence of completed plans is unjustified.

Those are arguments presented against the proposed $2,000,000 Chaffey school bond issue by L. J. Barden, Cucamonga winery executive, last night.

Joint Sponsors

The occasion was a meeting jointly sponsored by the Leagues of Women Voters, held at Upland city hall, and attended by a near-capacity audience. Voters ballot March 4 on the proposal.

Superintendent Daniel B. Milliken of Chaffey, the affirmative speaker, countered Barden's arguments with the assertion that new construction is urgently needed now.

"A double session will be necessary next year if the bond issue fails," he said.

Sketched Problem

Mr. Milliken spoke first and, assisted by Trustee Wilma Klepper, sketched the problems confronting the school.

He asserted present enrollment at Chaffey High school is using all available space, including some which has been condemned as substandard.

Contrasting with present enrollment of 2735 with an "ideal" enrollment of 1000, he pointed out that—based on first grade enrollments presently in the district, allowing a 15 per cent "drop out", Chaffey will have 4141 students by 1957.

The bonds proposed to be voted, he pointed out, are the cheapest possible in the matter of interest to be paid. Retarding the program will only make it more expensive for the taxpayer in the long run, he continued.

The setting of a bond election before preparation of detailed plans is in line with approved administrative practices, the superintendent asserted.

Would Be Costly

To prepare the plans first, he said, would be to put the district to an unnecessary expense in case the bonds failed.

Mrs. Wilson Stone, president of the Upland league, opened the meeting and presented Mrs. Robert Walker, program chairman of the Ontario league, who introduced the speakers.

Following the talks, an extended question and answer period was had. The meeting was adjourned by Mrs. Henry Lucas, president of the Ontario league.

Chamber To Hear Mussatti

James Mussatti, general manager of the California state chamber of commerce, will be the honored guest and principal speaker at the Ontario chamber of commerce annual banquet, it was announced today.

The banquet will be held Monday, 7 p.m. in Chaffey cafeteria. Tickets are $2.

"The chamber of commerce and its contribution to the community" is the subject chosen for Mr. Mussatti's talk. Widely known as a leader in California public service, Mr. Mussatti is an authority on constitutional history.

He was an instructor in constitutional history at the University of Southern California for several and is past editor of the magazine Tax Digest. Mr. Mussatti became general manager of the State chamber in 1939, after serving for eight years as executive secretary of the California Taxpayers association.

Monopoly Try Is Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bank examiner testified today that Transamerica Corp. bought shares of an Oakland, Calif., bank at steeply rising prices to gain control of the bank and merge it into another bank Transamerica owned.

James C. Smith, an examiner of the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank, testified in the federal reserve board's anti-trust trial of Transamerica. He said prices paid for the stock jumped from $117 in June, 1936, to as high as $450 in July and August while Transamerica was acquiring control.

Smith said Transamerica spent more than $2,800,000 to take over the previously "independent" bank, known as the "Central Bank of Oakland". It was merged with another bank as the "Central Bank, Oakland".

PENSION SESSION STORMY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several members of the House veterans committee today walked out of a stormy session at which the committee approved a veterans pensions bill.

The bill would give $90-a-month pensions to all veterans of World Wars 1 and 2 at the age of 65.

The story of the squabbling came out after a closed-door meeting broke up. The fight later spread to the House floor where cries of "dictatorship" were raised against Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.).

Some committee members told reporters after the meeting they did not see the final draft of the measure until today's meeting.

One member, who asked that his name not be used, said Rankin was defeated on one issue by a vote of 14 to 5, but demanded a roll call. The walkout followed.

The committee's measure was a compromise of a proposal by Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.) to start $60-a-month pensions at the age of 60.

The bill also sets up pensions for non-service connected disabilities ranging from $20 a month to $90 for total disability, and $120 when an attendant is required.

The Truman administration previously had indicated it opposed the pension moves. Veterans Administrator Carl R. Gray, Jr., told the committee the bills "could not be considered in accord with the program of the President".

Gray estimated that the cost would be around $2,000,000,000 the first year and said costs would go up annually thereafter.

The general Southern California forecast today was for 26 in the coldest spots this evening.

ANNA LOUISE STRONG

Hint Her Expulsion May Be Red Ruse

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials appeared puzzled today by Moscow's announcement that Anna Louise Strong, American writer, is being deported from Soviet Russia as a "spy".

She has long been regarded here as pro-Soviet. Last summer when she was in this country she was an active supporter of Henry Wallace's presidential campaign.

Some officials said privately they suspected the Moscow action might be a ruse to return the writer to the United States with added prestige among anti-Communists because of her expulsion from Russia.

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW (AP) — The Moscow press announced today that Anna Louise Strong, well-known American author and correspondent, has been arrested on charges of spying and will be deported.

Miss Strong, who has been in Russia most of the time since 1921 writing books and articles which reflected a strongly pro-Soviet viewpoint, is one of the seven American correspondents in Mossow. She was listed as representing the Allied Labor News.

The Soviet newspaper disclosed her arrest in the following announcement:

Tell Arrest

"The well-known intelligence operator, the American woman journalist, A. L. Strong, who got into the U.S.S.R. as a consequence of the carelessness of certain foreign relations officials, yesterday was arrested by state security organs.

"Miss Strong is accused of espionage and undermining activity against the Soviet Union. They report that in the next few days she will be sent outside the boundaries of the Soviet Union."

The deportation of the 63-year-old writer leaves the following American correspondents in Moscow: Eddy Gilmore and Thomas P. Whitney, for the Associated Press; Henry Shapiro, for the United Press; Joseph Newman, New York Herald Tribune; Edmund Stevens, Christian Science Monitor, and Andrew Steiger, Overseas News Agency.

Authorize Visa

A visa for a seventh correspondent, Harrison E. Salisbury, who will represent the New York Times, was authorized by Soviet authorities about three weeks ago. The Times has not been repre-

Hungary Forced To Try Cardinal, Official Declares

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—A top Hungarian Communist spokesman says the Hungarian government was "forced" to try Josef Cardinal Mindszenty after doing its best to settle church-state differences.

"The Hungarian government had officially informed the Vatican about all charges against Mindszenty in due time before the trial," declared chief Communist ideologist Josef Revai. "It did so to give the Vatican the possibility to remove him."

"We would have let Mindszenty go, only to help reconciliation between church and state," he said. He was addressing one of three rallies held in Budapest last night to protest against "imperialist slandering and attempts at interference" in Hungarian affairs.

"If the Vatican did not want to have Mindszenty, we thought we could go on and try him."

An official spokesman said the offer to the Vatican was made before the arrest of the cardinal and not between the time of his arrest and the trial. The people's court sentenced the cardinal to life imprisonment.

Red Drive in China Basis For Request

Reinforcement 'Impractical'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The army has turned down a request by General MacArthur for more troops.

Secretary of the Army Royall said today the supreme allied commander in Japan had been told it would be "impractical" to send him any more.

Royall made the statement to reporters on returning from an inspection trip to Japan where he conferred with MacArthur.

At the time of Royall's visit there, dispatches from Tokyo said MacArthur had submitted a secret report on the American military situation in Japan in view of Communist victories in China. These dispatches said MacArthur was believed to have asked for more troops and airplanes.

Royall was asked about the reports. He replied that MacArthur previously had expressed hope he could have more troops and brought up the request again.

"Impractical"

"He was told it would be impractical to put more troops over there," Royall said.

Royall then was asked whether MacArthur had mentioned returning to the United States.

"There was no discussion at all about his return," Royall said. "He didn't say anything and I didn't."

Royall added: "We don't contemplate any change" either in troop strength or command in Japan.

The secretary spent 18 days in the Pacific area, including six days in Japan.

Dispatches reporting on MacArthur's plea for larger forces said the issue he raised was the same one that had been raised during the war: whether the Pacific and the Orient should be slighted in favor of a major military concentration in Europe.

Concerned

MacArthur was said to be concerned about the southward push of the Chinese Communists and the possibility that a Communist-held China might disintegrate into warlordism.

On the other hand, the feeling in Washington long has been that it is economically impossible to keep a global defense line uniformly strong. For that reason, according to the view here, the main strength must be centered in Europe.

Shifting of more troops to the far east, as MacArthur proposed, would involve the diversion of funds, equipment, weapons and other stocks intended to bolster western European countries under military aid programs.

There have been no recent reports on the size of U. S. forces in Europe and Japan. Several months ago the strength was put at about 125,000 troops in Japan, Okinawa and other islands under MacArthur's command, and about 96,000 in Europe.

The figures presumably covered the air force. The greater air power built up in Europe would tend to offset any difference in the size of ground forces.

Turn Down Zoning Plea

A request to rezone an area at the southeast corner of Sultana avenue and I street from single residence to duplex residence was denied yesterday by the Ontario planning commission, due to the large number of oral and written protests.

The denial was revealed following the meeting of the commission last night when the second and final hearing was had on the matter. The request to rezone the property was made by Silas P. Rice.

A public hearing was also held on the request of George H. Hammer to allow the enlargement of a construction described as a store building at 857 East D street. It was decided to allow an eight-foot addition to the front of the building, and to also permit a 2-foot setback in lieu of the normal setback.

Mr. Hammer appeared in his own behalf and presented a petition in favor of the addition with 37 signatures of neighboring property owners. The addition, which does not conform to authorized construction usage, received the approval of the commission.

A tract, consisting of 31 lots adjoining Roswell avenue south of Grand avenue will be returned to the County planning commission with the suggestion that the north half of Phillips boulevard (Dessau street) will be dedicated for street purposes within the tract.

Taxes Will Be Higher, Says Rayburn

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) said today "in all probability we'll have to have" an increase in taxes.

He made the statement shortly after a group of top Democrats left a White House conference with President Truman.

Rayburn told reporters he was making the statement to deny reports that tax legislation has been pushed aside because the house ways and means committee decided to take up social security legislation ahead of taxes.

"The President requested that social security be considered ahead of taxes," he said. "And nothing was pushed over on him."

Expect Statement

He said he expected the President himself to make a statement Thursday "to try to dispel this fog" about tax legislation.

Mr. Truman has asked for a $4,000,000,000 tax boost.

Rayburn did not mention this figure specifically.

"I don't see how anyone can be wise enough now to say there should be no new tax legislation," Rayburn said.

"If there is a probability of us running into the red I think it would be a reflection on all of us for us to do deficit financing, when the national income is at such a high level.

"There will be time, as the picture develops, to see what kind of tax bill we need to keep us out of the red.

Debt Reduction

"In my opinion, in all probability, in order to keep us out of the red, we will have to have some tax legislation. We must have money to run the government and we certainly should have some to reduce the debt."

Formidable opposition to any tax increase this year already has appeared.

Senator George (D-Ga.), chairman of the senate finance committee, last week came out against any tax boost before next January. Senator Byrd (D-Va.) said he feels the same way.

Assuming that senate finance committee Republicans will oppose tax increases, George and Byrd can block any tax bill here.

Many Democrats have taken the position that no tax legislation should be written until it is clear how much Congress is going to appropriate.

Rayburn indicated plainly that the President will spike reports that the tax program is being abandoned.

"No determinations were made as to coverage or amounts for old age assistance and other benefits," Rayburn said.

Social Security

Rayburn said the President discussed social security very frankly, got the reaction of the conferees, and stood on his previous messages to Congress on the subject.

Besides Rayburn and the way and means Democrats, those attending the conference were Rep. McCormack (Mass.), Democratic floor leader; Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, and Arthur J. Altmeyer, social security administrator.

Charles G. Ross, the President's press secretary, was asked at a news conference if Mr. Truman would have a message to Congress on social security. He replied that a message "is being thought about", and eventually he believed there would be another message on health insurance.

Floods, Storms Still Plague East, Mid-west

(By The Associated Press)

Wind-whipped snow again plagued the storm-battered upper mountain states Tuesday, and heavy rains pointed up flood threats in the midwest.

In the east, record high temperatures brought spring-like weather. Pittsburgh had a record 68, Syracuse, N. Y., 61; Buffalo, N. Y., 59; Rochester, N. Y., 54; Baltimore 70 at 10 a.m. with near 80 predicted.

Heavy rains followed by subfreezing temperatures left ice in Kansas, Oklahoma, Northern Texas, Illinois, Iowa and Lower Michigan.

In Washington, fresh falls of snow blocked Snoqualmie and Blewett passes in the Cascade mountains and cross-state motor travel was halted. Snoqualmie pass, the state's major east-west highway, had been open only two days when a new blizzard blocked it yesterday. Trains moved with difficulty across the Cascades.

Sporadic ground blizzards virtually halted road travel in Southern Wyoming and Southern Idaho.

The high winds over the northern plains states diminished, giving relief workers a brief respite in pushing supplies to storm-locked animals and humans.

A blizzard which swept over Boise, Ida., was the heaviest local storm in 17 years, the weather bureau said. Six inches of snow fell in seven hours last night. Snow was forecast for northwestern Utah. No heavy snow was reported in the Wyoming storm belt but ground blizzards — strong winds swirling the huge piles of snow over newly-cleared roads and rail lines—continued. Dust storms and dust drifts were reported at Scottsbluff, Neb., across the Wyoming line. Visibility at times was reduced to a few yards.

SAVES NAVEL ORANGE CROPS

A new spray made from the extract of plants that grow wild on the deserts of the Southwest has been developed to stop the menace of "water rot" on navel oranges in the Pomona Valley area. Extensive tests on a ten-acre grove of W. A. Snyder near Pomona resulted in completely overcoming the fungus, also in killing red scale and repelling red spider, it was reported by the rancher. Shown examining oranges saved by the spray are Kenneth Snyder, left, and William A. Nelson.

WHERE HAS HE BEEN?

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Earl Warren, still governor of California, had a long laugh today.

He received a letter from a well-wisher in Philadelphia who is under the impression he and New York's governor, Thomas E. Dewey, were sent to Washington, D. C., by the voters last November.

It was addressed to Warren as vice-president of the U. S., and contained a long list of complaints about the nation's economy.

Warren was even asked to look into the roundtrip railroad fare from Philadelphia to Washington.

The writer said he had just returned from the capital where he attended the inauguration and complimented Warren on his "magnificent voctory".

Warren chuckled that the letter was rather slow getting to Sacramento because of its senate address.

"And they've never heard of me there!" he quipped, pointing out the "Not in U. S. Senate" somebody had written on the envelope.

"I'll have to send that one to Tom Dewey," Warren concluded. "It's a dandy."

He withheld the name of the writer.

Born in Ontario, Canada, Mr. Bailie came to California 29 years ago. He had lived in Fontana for 23 years.

His community activities included membership in the San Bernardino county employes association, the Fontana American legion post, Fontana chamber of commerce and the Fontana Kiwanis club.

EXPULSION OF WRITER MAY BE RUSE

sented here since the spring of 1947, when Drew Middleton left on home leave and was not granted a re-entry permit.

Miss Strong, who married a Russian in 1932 but continued to use her maiden name, is the second American correspondent in a year to be charged with spy activities.

Robert Magidoff was ordered to leave Russia in April, 1948, when Izvestia published a letter from his secretary, Cecelia Nelson of Michigan, accusing him of spying.

The letter said Magidoff, correspondent for NBC, Exchange Telegraph and McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., had received instructions from McGraw-Hill explained that the charges were based on "routine news assignments" sent to Magidoff.

Magidoff said he believed his expulsion was for internal propaganda purposes.

Pro-Soviet Author

Miss Strong is known as the author of a score of books and articles which gave her the reputation of being strongly leftist and pro-Russian. She also has traveled widely in China and Central Europe.

A compilation, "Ladies of the Press", by Ishbel Ross, published in 1936 by Harpers, states that the late Lincoln Steffens persuaded her to go to Russia. At the time she was writing on I.W.W. and other labor activities for a Seattle trade union newspaper.

She went to Russia in 1921 for the American Friends Relief Mission and became correspondent for Hearst's International Magazine for Central and Eastern Europe, and for the North American Newspaper Alliance in Russia in 1925.

Ontario Church

The Mennonites and First Baptists annexed victories to start the second round of the YMCA church basketball league Saturday night at the "Y" gym. The rejuvenated Methodists held the hapless Mennonites to a 8-6 half-time score but Gene Mireau's six field goals in the second half led his Mennonites to a final count of 31-23. Chuck Zwissler's seven points was high for the losers.

"Junior" Beam's cellar abiding Nazarenes played a strong defensive game while Beam scored 20 points for the losers and held the First Baptists to a score of 43-28. The Baptists more experienced players proved equal to their tie with the Christians in the first round to win with Bobby Gates getting 22 points and Walt Riddle 15.

Games this week are: Thursday 7 p.m. L. D. S. vs First Baptist; 8 p.m. Christian vs Methodists. Saturday 7 p.m. Mennonites vs Nazarenes; 8 p.m. Allyn avenue Baptist vs Christians.

Lighthouse That's All Automatic Is Introduced

LONG BEACH, (AP) — Lighthouse keepers—like dodo birds—may some day become extinct, the victims of scientific evolution.

The Coast guard has erected a completely automatic lighthouse station on the Los Angeles-Long Beach breakwater that can operate a month without human aid.

Its fog horns and 140,000 candlepower light are radio-controlled from a point five miles away. Gasoline engines with a 30-day fuel supply generate power. And the 50-foot tower broadcasts a radio beam that ships pick up on radio direction finders.

U.S. Pacific Defenses Subject Of Study; New Position Sought

TOKYO, (AP) — The United States may gain a more realistic position in Asia as a result of re-examination of its Pacific defenses.

The recent disclosure here of current Washington thinking on Asiatic problems pointed up two main issues.

1. The tremendous financial drain on the U. S. of global defense and relief demands for extensive and immediate economies.

2. Asiatic nations in general have shown a tendency to lean heavily on the U. S. for both aid and defense as something due them for which they have little to return. The question is to stiffen these countries into independence without discouraging their friendship or contributing to Communist propaganda.

Japan and her neighbors probably would not be far wrong to interpret speculation over the strategy as a warning American benevolence is neither permanent nor perpetually uncomplaining.

This was underlined by one remark at the press conference in which strategy views were aired. One source emphasized that no withdrawal from Japan was contemplated but mentioned that a gesture toward it might have a stimulating effect.

"If you reach for your hat, you'd be surprised at the number of people asking you to stay," he said.

The "touch of human kindness" is a phrase often used to describe the particular kind of welfare work done by Mrs. Maud Booth. She devoted nearly a lifetime of service to the cause of destitute families of prisoners and other efforts in behalf of paroled or discharged men from penal institutions. Most such cases came to the organization through wardens or chaplains, Protestant, or catholic and is state-wide in its service.

SCOUTING vs. JUVENILE CRIME

In an impressive ceremony, attended by more than 1500 people at Chaffey Civic Auditorium last Friday night, sixteen members of the Boy Scouts of America were invested as Eagle Scouts. Scores more won other lesser honors.

Just how valuable the Boy Scouts are as a character building organization for youth is brought out in the fact that of the juvenile "crime ring" members arrested recently in Ontario, NOT ONE was a member of the Scout organization.

Juvenile Officer Tom Mooney of the Ontario police department is the authority for that statement.

The contrasting spectacle should be brought home to parents. On the one hand, the thrill of justly won honors bestowed before an assemblage of parents, friends and fellow townspeople. On the other, arrest, jail and juvenile court. The Boy Scouts of America, now entering its 40th year of service to youth, has made the difference.

AMERICANA

Pinball and slot machines take in $150 million a year. One person in every six gets a regular check from Uncle Sam.

Factory workers collecting close to $55 per week can't buy as much food as they could with their $25 average weekly pay in 1939.

The average American owes slightly more than $5900 as his share in the national debt. He pays $100 interest on it each year. He also owes nearly $300 in personal debts and has savings of $350.

He earns $360 per month and pays $475 a year in taxes. The house he lives in cost $4600 ten years ago. It's worth $10,000 now. He has a prewar car, but wants to buy a new one. His family consumes 160 gallons of coffee a year and almost as much milk.

Also, he's a Republicrat and voted for Dewman in the last election.

These Wild Rumors How Do They Start?

By Robert Ruark

NEW YORK, Nearly four years after the death of President Roosevelt, a rumor tags on that there was something high mysterious about his passing.

It is still talked in the little side-street bars where the workingmen pause for a glass of beer, on the way home. It still is the subject of a great many letters, many of them unerackpot, to people like me, who write for newspapers. I have been pinioned dozens of times by people who say: "You get around. What really happened to him?"

Common Rumor

"The common rumor, which is still chewed over, was that (1) the President was murdered, and (2) he was spirited away. Both of those reasons are advanced for the fact that he did not lie in state, for public inspection as a benefactor of the common man. The simpler of his subjects find tremendous room for speculation in this fact.

Having been out of the country at the time of Mr. Roosevelt's death, I assumed that the brain condition which so swiftly felled him was acceptable to everybody. Evidently it isn't, because I walked into it the other day again.

I can speak only for my time, but it seems to me that we are riper for the wildest scuttlebutts now than at any period I can recall. Possibly the confusion of the present moments, a mass escape into fantasy, with the old wives' tale as its fundamental. Or possibly everything is so fantastic now that it's no longer possible to preclude anything as unlikely.

Hitler Legends

On an average of once a week I learn on good authority that Hitler is either in South America or has found sanctuary in New York, as the unlikeliest hide-out in the world. Stalin, according to my correspondents, has either died, been murdered, or is on the verge of contrived dissolution. This has been going on since the war ended, with short spates of imprisonment to relieve the monotony.

During the war, one of the oldest standing rumors gained fresh circulation—one, that a three-star general had been mistakenly exchanged for an old lady in a funeral mixup. The general was supposed to lie at peace in some quiet suburban cemetery, while the old lady was planted with full military honors at Arlington. I ran that one down, once for fun, and paced it back past the Boer war. With variations it's always the same.

The human mind, with a fragment of a fact and time for embroidery, always seems to bend toward the macabre. I wrote some time back that there was a growing public apprehension about the possibility of evil forces, loosed by enemies, working maliciously in people's brain. The one slight mention touched off a freshet of moderately lucid correspondence which has me believeing that half the population is being prayed toward death or insanity by the other half.

This telepatic crawling into other people's heads has always been accepted among the aboriginals of various countries. In Australia today, they still point the bone in the boon docks, and the object of the bone-pointer's hocus-pocus rolls over and dies. I would have thought we had progressed beyond that, but evidently not.

The whole thing finally gets to be pretty creepy. I would not say I believed Mr. Roosevelt had been shot or spirited away, or that Hitler tangos privily with Eva Peron, or that Mr. Stalin has been chained to his cot for the last three years. Nor do I subscribe to this long-distance voodoo, whereby an acquaintance like Lucky Luciano can hire a witch-doctor to make me hear strange noises. But a lot of people do. And most of them seem fairly sane.

Bad Weather Cuts Farm Labor

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Adverse weather has resulted in less unemployment of farm laborers than a year ago.

Operations have frequently been interrupted, necessitating the continued employment of more workers, said Edward F. Hayes, chief of the employment department's farm placement service.

His weekly report also contained this information:

Harvesting of navel oranges and lemons has picked up in Southern California after being delayed by cold weather.

Vegetable harvesting has been accelerated in the Imperial valley but there is a labor surplus in the area.

The San Joaquin cotton harvest is virtually ended and labor surpluses are accumulating.

Central coast areas and Sacramento valley points have also noted an increasing labor surplus.

Wild horses and wild burros still roam unrestricted in some of the more remote sections of Arizona.

Fight Expected On Job Bills

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Bitter employer-labor wrangling is expected in the 1949 legislature over attempts to revise the unemployment insurance act.

Employer groups want to tighten regulations to eliminate what they term abuses that threaten the entire program.

Labor wants to broaden the act to cover thousands more wage-earners than the 3,100,000 now covered.

The administration is supporting some liberalized proposals. Governor Warren's program calls for inclusion of agriculture laborers and employers of non-profit corporations under the past.

Much of labor's program is spearheaded by freshman assemblyman Robert Condon, Walnut Creek.

Ideas of Gandhi Still March On

By Dewitt MacKenzie

Good ideas can't be killed.

A year has passed since Mahatma Gandhi was shot to death by the Hindu Narayan Godse. But the teachings of the great spiritual leader go marching on with increasing strength at the head of India's awakening millions.

Godse has been sentenced to be hanged for one of the terrible crimes of the ages. Of six fellow conspirators, one was condemned to death and the rest to lift imprisonment.

Godse testified at his trial that he "respected Gandhi's saintliness" but disagreed with his policies of love and tolerance for Moslems. And as the assassin and his colleagues left the courtroom after being sentenced they were shouting:

We Will Conquer

"We will conquer Pakistan (the Moslem dominion). Long live Hindustan (the dominion of Hindu India)."

The condemned men had tried to kill ideas with leaden bullets.

The margin by which they failed is seen in the fact that the bequest of brotherly love left by Gandhi had much to do with preventing war between Pakistan and India at the height of the quarrel over the rich state of Kashmir. The long, long labor of Gandhi, the Hindu, for Moslem-Hindu peace brought striking recognition on the anniversary of his death from Khwaja Nazimuudin, governor general of Pakistan. Nazimuddin said in a message to the Indian capital of Delhi:

Recall Message

"In the present-day world which has failed to take a lesson from the devastation and misery caused by two world wars of this century and where the cult of violence still holds sway, it would be well to recall Gandhi-Ji's message of non-violence, for the salvation of humanity lies in outlawing violence."

You will not that this Moslem leader called the Mahatma "Gandhi-Ji". That in itself is a great tribute, for the suffix "Ji" is a designation of respect and affection. You would understand that better if you knew Gandhi, as I did.

I always think of him either as "The Mahatma (Great-Souled one)" or as "Gandhi-Ji". Many folks were impressed that way by this humble little man who once told me that the greatest influence in his life had been Christ's Sermon on the Mount.

Ideas March On

So Gandhi-Ji's ideas march on. The prime minister of India, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, who is one of the world's outstanding personalities, keeps exhorting his people to follow the Mahatma's teachings. So does the minister of state, Sardar Patel. And Gandhi's disciples are continuing to spread the teachings of the apostle of non-violence and brotherly love throughout the vast sub-continent for whose independence he was so largely responsible.

You see Gandhi's guiding hand in numerous acts of government, both national and provincial. There is striking evidence of this in the prohibition of alcohol as a beverage in many provinces.

One of the most notable developments came the other day when a meeting of exponents of peace, held at Gandhi's ashram "hermitage" or "sanctuary") at Wardha, decided to hold a world convention at Santiniketan, West Bengal, next December. This is pursuant to an idea advanced by Gandhi himself. He suggested that India should act as host and invite delegates from all parts of the world to discuss ways and means of ensuring international peace on a common spiritual foundation.

Good ideas just can't be killed.

Louis Fischer Talks Tonight

REDLANDS — Louis Fischer, noted author and lecturer, will appear at the University of Redlands tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the Memorial Chapel to speak on the topic of his latest book, "Gandhi and Stalin."

Fischer, who has traveled extensively in Europe, and who knows personally virtually every important world leader including Churchill, Stalin and the late Roosevelt and Gandhi, will interpret present day Russia and what is going on behind the Iron Curtain.

Denmark's Tennis 'Boy Wonder' Hopes to Study in California

COPENHAGEN (AP)—There's a giant killer on the loose in European tennis. His ambition is to attend the University of California and kill some giants on American courts.

He is 18-year-old Danish schoolboy Kurt Nielsen, who this winter defeated American topliners Frankie Parker and Budge Patty, Josef Asboth of Hungary, Torsten Johansson of Sweden and Vladimir Cernik of Czechoslovakia.

Asboth got to the last four at the Wimbledon championships in 1948 and ranks second to Czech Jaroslav Drobny in Europe. Johansson and Cernik are number two in their countries.

These scalps helped Kurt capture the Scandinavian indoor singles championship, which he aims to use as a springboard to bigger things—Wimbledon and the United States championship.

His introduction to tennis could not be improved by a fiction writer. Six years ago Kurt found an old racket in his cellar and fired his first tennis ball over a cord stretched between a tree and a lamp post.

Lanky and handsome, Kurt is a natural athlete. His dad, a Copenhagen business man, was a soccer player and Kurt became one of Denmark's junior stars in that sport. But he preferred tennis and quit soccer.

Kurt started making a mild reputation in Europe last season. He drew the No. 1 assignment on the Danish Davis Cup team which, surprisingly, reached the third round in the European zone.

He really opened the door to the big time when he tumbled Parker, top seeded at Wimbledon in 1948.

'AMPUTATION' IS RICKERT'S SALARY MOAN

SEATTLE (AP)—Marv Rickert, who replaced the injured Jeff Heath of Boston in last fall's world series, said today he had been offered an "amputation" of salary for the 1949 season.

"Cut?" he snorted. "It's an amputation."

Rickert said he had returned his third unsigned contract to the Boston Braves. The best figure offered he said, was $1500 less than he received last year with the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association.

Bookie Wire Ban Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—By order of the U. S. circuit court of appeals, Continental Press Service in Los Angeles must discontinue today any further use of Western Union wires to obtain horse racing news.

The court issued its mandate late yesterday, ending a 30-day stay of its earlier decision against the practice.

The stay had been granted to allow Continental time to file an appeal to the U. S. Supreme court. The 30 days elapsed, however, without the filing of such an appeal.

Jayhi Mentor Greets 14 at Opening Drill

Track practice started officially at Upland Junior High yesterday with Coach Clyde Frishholz greeting 14 candidates for the varsity squad.

The Raider mentor is mildly optimistic about his chances this year, particularly in such events as the shot and hurdles.

Cause of optimism in the former event is big Tom Pipkin, a lead pipe cinch to shatter both school and league marks with the 8-pound ball. Whether he'll win the conference is problematical, however, as Fremont also has a weight man of renoun.

Hurdles

In the hurdles, Clyde is counting on Ed Johnson to click through in fine style. Three men, Finish Lynch, Felix Cortez and Pete Hernandez, are shaping up in the high and broad jumps.

Dick Koehler seems to have the 1320 run sewed up, while Bob Grimmessy and Pete Hernandez are the 660 men right now.

Billy Paulin figures as principal dash man and will run the 100 and 220. He will be aided and abetted by Pipkin, a mighty fast man despite his weight.

Frishholz said he's trying to make a high hurdler out of Felix Cortez. Felix, however, has never performed in this event and nobody knows just how it will work out.

First Meet

First meet for the squad will be a triangular affair with Fremont and Cal. Jr. at Fremont March 9. The league trials are March 30 at Webb and the finals April 7 either at Pomona college or at Chaffey.

Give Lineups For Donkey Cage Fray

Lineups for tomorrow night's donkey basketball game at Chaffey were revealed today. The contest starts at 7:30 at the Chaffey gym with the city league all-stars opposing league managers in one half. Chaffey coaches play a group of businessmen in the other.

Lineup for the league all-stars include Art Stoeffen, Arvo Smith, Lew Fuller, Russ Farrar, Gino Bertolussi, Eddie Ferraro and Tommy Tomich.

The managers will have Tudor, Mers, Larick, Will Stone, Dittburner, Montgovery, Klenhard and LaBrenc.

On the Merchants team are such notables as Mel Dinger, Dick Bumstead, Ross Middough, Chuck Walker, Cal Shores, Hub Welden, Dan Milliken and Bert Hendy.

They'll go against a coaches' team including Harvey Shirk, Truck Lindsey, Karl Kaiser, Ike Fund, George Culler, George Thorne and Al Smith.

Admission to the contest is 50 and 80 cents. Proceeds go to the city league with school getting a cut.

Southland Umpires Association Has Initial Meeting

Initial season's meeting of the Southland Umpire's association was held last night at the city hall annex with President Monte Hurd presiding.

Plans for the forthcoming season were reviewed. The association is planning to greatly expand its activities this year, and hopes to umpire all CBL and OFC games in the area, as well as all softball contests, Legion games and the like.

Because of the school games to be officiated, all umpires will be required to pass the CIF examination for arbiters, it was announced.

The first of a series of classes will be held next Monday night, and each succeeding Monday until April 1. The entire rule book is to be gone over and discussed at the meetings.

All fans and interested persons, whether they want to become umpires or not, are invited to participate in the sessions.

Developments In Ring World Fly Thick and Fast

NEW YORK (AP)—Five world champions figured today in a rash of ring activity that had cauliflower ears buzzing.

These were the fast-breaking developments:

1. Heavyweight champion Joe Louis said he'd give Lee Savold just a week to agree to meet Ezzard Charles in a bout to determine a suitable challenger.

2. Lightweight champion Ike Williams and Cuba's Kid Gavilan prepared to sign for a March 18 return bout—the winner to get a shot at welter king Ray Robinson.

3. Charley Johnston, manager of Sandy Saddler, said he would go to the New York athletic commission with a complaint against referee Eddie Joseph's handling of last Friday night's fight in which saddler lost the featherweight title to Willie Pep.

4. Tony Zale, boxing's rugged steel hand who refuses to wear out, predicted he'd win back his middleweight championship from France's Marcel Cerdan this summer. "I feel I can take this fellow the next time," he said.

Louis, who says he will come out of his unofficial retirement for one more fight, issued his ultimatum to Savold before boarding a plane yesterday for Chicago.

He indicated the Paterson, N. J., clouter, who has just returned from England, wouldn't be considered as a possible opponent unless he took on Charles first.

The Brown Bomber is scheduled to defend his crown in Yankee stadium in June.

"There's no sentiment to it," the Bomber said. "I just want to fight the best man."

K.U. Wildcats Top AP Poll

NEW YORK (AP) — Kentucky continues to convince the basketball experts that it is the best college team in the country with a dozen straight victories since its December loss to St. Louis University.

The fifth weekly Associated Press poll gives the Wildcats (20-1) a wide edge over runner-up St. Louis as the season approaches the tournament stage.

Of the 84 writers and sportscasters participating, 64 picked Kentucky for the No. 1 spot. Only 13 preferred St. Louis, which led the poll for the first two weeks. It is the third straight time Kentucky has been out front.

St. Louis bowed to Ohio State, 68-60.

The Oklahoma Aggies, only conqueror of St. Louis, cling to third place by a slender seven-point margin over Illinois.

San Francisco, despite a 54-52 loss to Bradley, advanced from ninth to eighth.

Bowling Green, in 10th place, is the only new team in the top ten, supplanting Stanford, which lost to Southern Cal and UCLA.

The top teams, figured on a point basis of 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 (first place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

1.	Kentucky (64) (20-1)	805
2.	St. Louis (13) (16-2)	741
3.	Oklahoma A. & M. (2) (16-3)	578
4.	Illinois (1) (16-2)	571
5.	Tulane (19-2)	297
6.	Minnesota (1) (15-2	271
7.	W. Kentucky (20-3)	264
8.	San Francisco (19-4)	165
9.	Hamline (17-1)	118
19.	Bowling Greene (16-6)	116

Stanford is now in a three-way tie with Yale and Duquesne for 20th place with 30 points. Washington State received 21 points, Southern California 6.

CHAFFEY TIGERS FACING TEST AT RIVERSIDE; PANTHERS PLAY DONS

Chaffey teams will both be playing on foreign courts tonight, with the Tigers at Riverside for their all-important struggle and the Panthers at Santa Ana in a game that means little or nothing.

Riverside could gain a tie for the CBL crown by upsetting the unbeaten Tigers this evening. If they do, it will be the first win in three meetings between the two squads.

In other conference play, San Bernardino winds up its season by entertaining Redlands while Colton is at Pomona. In the OEC, the Valley Indians are at Mt. Sac and Riverside at Orange Coast.

KEEPING HER HEART WARM COSTS MORE THAN IN 1939

...but keeping your house warm with gas costs you less!

Whether your Valentine present this year is candy, flowers or a more practical gift, you can figure on its price being higher. In fact, you can count on one hand the things that cost less now than before the war! Gas is one of them! While other prices rose again and again, the price of gas stayed down. And today gas actually costs you less than in 1939!

We, too, must figure on rising costs. Every item we buy . . . every foot of construction . . . is higher than ever before. Extensions to serve new customers, for example, cost us 2½ to 3 times more than a few years ago. The low price you pay for gas is the result of 1) serving more gas to more people . . . 60% more customers than ten years ago . . . and 2) striving constantly to find new ways to achieve greater efficiency and more economical operation.

Your gas bill is really one of the very few that's kind to your pocketbook. Add this low cost to superior performance in modern automatic appliances, and it's easy to understand why gas is so highly favored in Southern California for cooking, water heating, house heating and refrigeration.

ECA Recommends Europe's Excess Workers Move

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The economic cooperation administration says there are a lot of excess workers in Europe who would be better elsewhere.

In its second quarterly report to Congress on the Marshall plan, ECA estimated that more than 2,500,000 idle workers are available for emigration, both to other European countries and overseas.

"Only a small portion of this group can be absorbed within continental Europe, making large overseas emigration an essential solution to the problem," the agency said.

Predict Farm Production To Increase 20 Pct.

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan predicted that American farm production may increase 20 to 25 per cent above present record levels during the next quarter century.

This forecast was based upon the assumption that ways are found to maintain a relatively high and stable level of employment.

In his annual report to President Truman, the secretary said such an increase in output would be large enough to feed an increased population at a higher consumption level and provide sizeable quantities of cotton, tobacco, wheat and other crops for export.

CIO Union Told To Get Behind T-H Law Repeal

SANTA CRUZ, (AP) — President Donald Henderson told the bi-annual convention of the food, tobacco, agricultural and allied workers union (CIO) that United action was needed to get the Taft-Hartley act repealed and the Wagner act restored.

Delivering a national officers' report, the union president said, "The last two-year period has been one in which reaction has been in the saddle. This period coincides roughly with the period of the reactionary 80th Congress.

"It has been a period in which the Truman administration gave no effective support to labor in its fight against the reactionary employers and did much through the issuance of strikebreaking injunctions to hurt labor."

Factory Jobs Take Sharp Nose Dive

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—California factory employment registered the sharpest December to January percentage decline since January, 1939. The drop of about 5 per cent placed the total of production workers at 457,600 against 480,700 in December, Phil Scharrenberg, director of industrial relations, reported today.

He said the decrease was general in nearly all manufacturing industries and was of a seasonal and non-seasonal nature.

Preliminary reports, he said, indicated the primary steel industry appeared to be an exception to the general downward trend.

In durable goods industries, the decline was most noticeable in lumber, iron and steel fabricated products, machinery, furniture and shipbuilding.

Most affected in the nondurable goods industries were food products and apparel.

Buying Agency Is Proposed

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The government's multi-billion dollar "housekeeping" chores — buying, record-keeping and building management—should be centered in a new agency, the Hoover commission has told Congress.

Creation of a new "Office of General Services," directly under the President, was proposed in the commission's third report on federal reorganization. The idea is to "almost completely eliminate purchasing offices in the smaller agencies.

The office would manage $1,000,000,000 a year of civilian purchases, dovetail them with $5,000,000,000 in military buying, and relocate records now filling costly space equal to five pentagon buildings.

New Agency

In the process, the treasury's bureau of federal supply would disappear into the new agency. The national archives also would be enfolded by it.

The commission, headed by former President Herbert Hoover, called for simplifying a maze of buying regulations, declaring that "purchasing is consumed in red tape." It asserted:

"It is estimated that on over half the 3,000,000 purchase orders issued by civilian agencies, the cost of paper work exceeded the cost of the items purchased."

The bi-partisan commission, whose official recommendations are expected to become law in many cases, also proposed:

Adoption for the whole government of the 1947 armed forces purchasing act. This raised from $100 to $1000 the ceiling on purchases which can be made without competitive bids.

New Committee

Creation of a supply policy committee to mesh civilian and military supply operations. It said "major savings" are possible by letting one or another—but not both—buy items of common use like medical supplies.

Slashing of stocks on hand—partly bought by agencies to avoid turning unused appropriations back to Congress—by $2,500,000,000.

Operation of a nation-wide system of storehouses to supply federal field offices. Six civilian agencies alone now run 748 storage centers over the country.

The commmission estimated that 70 per cent of all stocks now held by federal agencies are in excess of need. The report said that in some cases, 50-year stockpiles have been amassed.

23rd in Day. Everything Happens

FASSBERG, Germany, (AP) — Life is a series of coincidences for Sgt. Alfonso B. Biaz of Saticoy, California.

On Aug. 23, 1944, Biaz was in a U. S. army plane shot down near this airbase town. Now he is assigned here with the airlift supplying blockaded Berlin.

Note that Aug. 23 date. The number 23 keeps popping up in Biaz' life. For instance:

He was born Nov. 23 in Santa Rita, N. M. He enlisted in the air force on Nov. 23, 1942. After escaping from his German captors, he joined a British armored outfit on March 23, 1945.

Returning to the U.S. he was discharged Sept. 23, 1945. When he was 23 years old, he married.

After settling temporarily with his bride in Saticoy, he re-enlisted and was assigned to the 23rd transport command squadron.

Now Biaz is due to return to the U.S. soon on the airlift plan of rotating fliers on the Berlin grind.

He wonders if his return orders will be dated Feb. 23.

COLD WEATHER

SAN DIEGO, (AP). — "We don't know where the next war is going to be, but it probably will be in damn' cold weather." That's the conclusion of Rear Adm. Bertram J. Rodgers, the Pacific fleet's amphibious commander, who returned yesterday from military maneuvers in Alaska.

ACTOR-DIRECTOR-WRITER — Film actor-director Eric von Stroheim autographs a copy of his novel "Paprika" for movie actress Denise Vernac in a Paris bookstore.
